Senior 1951, 52

Washington High School
Washington, Missouri

ALMA MATER

Where the vale of old Missouri
Meets the eastern sky,
'Mid the rustling of the tree tops
Stands our good old high.

CHORUS

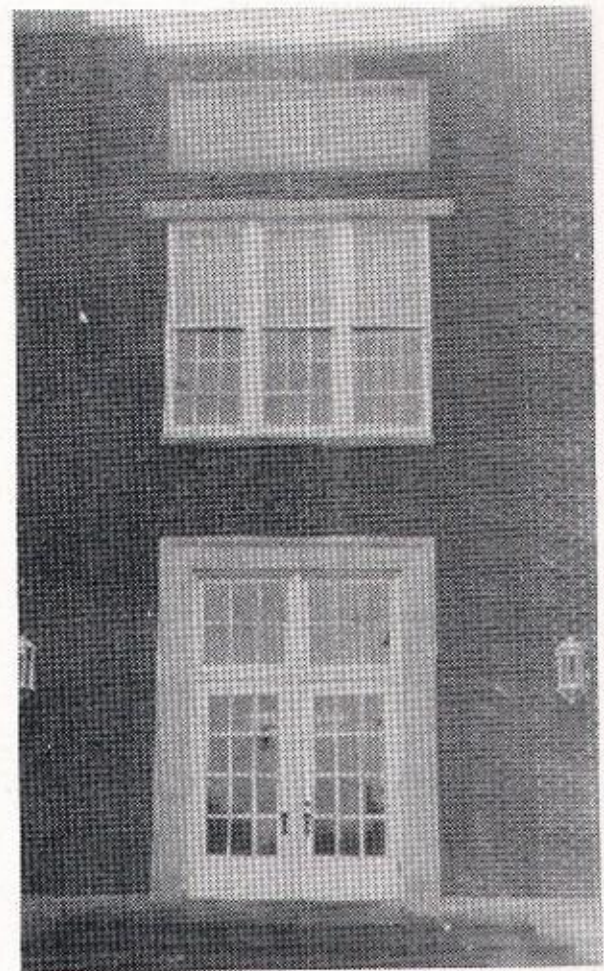

School we love, High School.
Live for aye,
Our Alma Mater dear,
May thy sons be leal and loyal
To thy memory.

SENIOR WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1952, being of sound mental condition, hereby declare this our last will and testament.

I, Bill Pence, will my ability to play basketball to Eddie Ronsick.

I, Jean Essmuller, will my weight to anybody who can handle it.

I, Helen Louise Kasel, will my small store of scientific knowledge to Dean Andrea. He might need it on his rocket trip to the moon.

I, Eleanor Homeyer, will my ability to be mean in study hall to Doris Gieding-hagen.

I, Ruthie Satterfield, will my driving ability to Nancy Eater.

I, Isola Morris, will my ability to play the French horn to Barbara Wiemann.

I, Amy Lindauer, will my ability to play volleyball to Hazel Bunge.

I, Alvina Klick, will my four years of English to any poor freshman or sophomore who needs them.

I, Janis Baumann, will my liking of home mechanics to the Pinnell twins.

I, Darlene Cowan, will all the wonderful times I have had during the four years I have been in high school to my sister, Rosie Cowan.

I, Betty Burton, will my muscles and weight to Mr. Nix.

I, Bill Bohling, will my height to Dewey Clover.

I, Wilbert Taetz, will my ability to keep the bench warm to John Iman.

I, Walter Schlemper, will my ability not to show off in study hall to Virgil Hoel-scher.

I, Cohlene Dunagan, will my love for the natural color of my hair to Harriet Mohrlock.

I, Ruth Glosemeyer, will my ability to get to school at 8:10 every morning to any-one who needs the extra study hour.

I, Donovan Sprick, will my ability to refrain from cigar smoking to Mr. Williams.

I, Anna Mae Wolking, will my ability to act like a freshman when I am only a freshman to Dorothy Fries.

I, Billy Joe Froning, will all of my freckles to my cousin Martha.

I, Norbert Terre, will my ability to get along with teachers to John Masterson.

I, Jo Ann Dittmore, will my chemistry notes to any would-be chemist who thinks he can read them.

I, Don Taylor, will my ability to find new and exciting girls to Bob Frankenfeld.

I, Tom Fenner, will my locker to anyone who wants to clean it out.

I, Wilma Obermann, will my ability to talk in study hall to anyone who wants to try it.

I, Marie Lindauer, will my ability to play the sax to Jim Armer.

I, Don Miller, will my ability in track to Tom Kuhlmann.

I, Helen Wright, will my bookkeeping book to Darlene Becker in the hope that she will be more successful than I.

I, Francis Swoboda, will my ability to be quiet on the bus to Elsie Kormeier.

I, Betty Mills, will my typing ability to Fay Sprague.

I, Mary Ellen Sprague, will my ability to get along in study hall with Mrs. Baird to Clark Bradt and George Dawson.

I, Betty Kriete, will my ability to be nice to all teachers to any freshman who might need it.

I, Betty Anthony, am taking it all with me. I'll need it.

SENIOR WILL

I, Marilyn Gardner will my ability to have my own pencils instead of borrowing them to Stanley Heidmann and Gale Bihr.

I, Homer Becker, will my ability to keep quiet in home economics to Melvin Meade.

I, Donald Conrad, will my ability to be good in sixth hour study hall to Noel Koelling.

I, Joan Kingsbury, will my desk in American problems class to anyone dumb enough to take it.

I, Earl Mueller, will my ability to sneak out of study hall to Daniel Plackmann.

I, Harlan Kuddes, will my ability to get along with girls to Jim Krafft.

I, Rosie Schuette, will my gym shorts to Betty Lou Willming.

I, Marvel Woodburn, will my steady nerves to Mr. Spickelmier.

I, Don Bunge, will my ability to play a trumpet to Wesley Koch.

I, John Redhage, will my curly hair to Bob Holtgrieve and my excess weight to Tom Kuhlmann.

I, Harlen Meyer, will my ability to Skip school to Gene Biermann.

I, Dick Heidbrink, will my ability not to fall in love with cheerleaders to Eddie Ronsick.

I, Joan Linduaer, will my ability to cheer for the team to Mr. Williams.

I, Harley Hoemann, will my super strength to Norvin Moritz.

I, Bob Olten, will my ability to get along with Mrs. Leiweke to Melvin Meade.

I, Shirley Crump, will my ability to slow down a little to a few freshman girls.

I, Charles Gross, will my willingness to attend out of town basketball and volleyball games to Jerean Kase and Nancy Eater.

I, Betty Ronsick, will my ability to get by in study hall to any poor fellow who gets stuck there.

I, Shearon Thomassen, will my ability to behave myself on the school bus to my sister Carol.

I, Mary Frances Smith, will my ability to play first clarinet in band and orchestra without being able to count or play to Barbara Kay Jones.

I, Marian Kassebaum, will my ability to chew gum in study hall to Mrs. Baird.

I, Shirley Jones, will my ability to get by with almost anything in home economics III to Bonnie Fennessey.

I, Marcia Potts, leave to Connie Marchbank my ability to look optimistic about certain things.

I, Robert Lause, will my ability to smoke across the street every morning before school to Speedy Bargaen.

I, Jack Hagedorn, will my limousine, which is the fastest, warmest and best looking outfit in school to any underclassman who is 16 and thinks he can manipulate it.

I, Audrey Kriebaum, will my ability to sleep in study hall to Clark Bradt.

I, Bob Heisel, will my manners and good behavior to Bob Frankenfeld.

I, Virginia Katzung, will my athletic abilities to Delores Pepmueller.

I, Lionel Gonzalez, will my ability to understand women to Eddie Ronsick.

I, Betty Anthony, am taking it all with me, I'll need it.

SENIOR PROPHECY

Travel log from the travels of a former Washingtonian

Leaving St. Louis, I boarded a train for New York. When I explored the train, I found the engineer to be "Homer Becker", with "John Redhage" as his right hand man. I took a taxi to the Ritz Hotel, owned by "Tom Fenner" who has as his personal secretary "Shorley Jones". In my chat with the cab driver I found that "Norbert Terre" was the owner of New York's Yellow Cab. On the way to the hotel, we witnessed a severe traffic accident. As I peered out of the window, I recognized at the scene of the accident a former classmate, "Harley Hoemann", now Chief of Police in New York City. An on the spot reporter hastily snapping pictures for the morning edition of the Times was "Bill Bohling". After this minor delay, I arrived at the hotel and saw at the desk "Harlen Kuddes", now manager of the Ritz. I found my room equipped with TV. Turning it on for a few minutes, I happened to see on the "Bud Olten" Popularity Plus Show a special attraction, "Jeanne Essmueler" surpassing any hit ever made by Dagmar. Also on TV was "Isola Morris" appearing as a soloist with the Philadelphia Philharmonic Orchestra. As hostess of the hotel's coffee shop, I found "Audrey Krebaum", who informed me that "Don Conrad" was now chief chef for the main dining room.

At one of New York's famous night spots, I danced to the sentimental music of the famous "Don Bunge" band. Among the members of the band were "Helen Wright and Marie Lindauer", featured soloists. One of the top entertainers of the evening was "Jack Hagedorn", crooning the love melodies of the famous song writer "Cohlene Dunagan". The next morning "Anna Mae Wolking" served me breakfast in bed. I went to the Ooo-La-La Beauty Salon owned by "Marvel Woodburn". Serving me there with the greatest of skill, were "Betty Kriete", top manicurist, "Marian Kassebaum", and Virginia Katzung".

I went on an extravagant spree in some of the most exclusive New York shops. "Helen Kasel", an expert on fashions, helped me select my new wardrobe. In the fashion revue one of the outstanding models was "Ruthie Satterfield". "Lionel Gonzalez" was also present exhibiting his latest world-famous creations, and near by was "Joan Kingsbury", head of his staff of designers. I ate my lunch in a small restaurant owned and operated by "Wilbert Taetz". Gazing out the window, I saw a large dime store owned by "Eleanor Hoemeyer". In the afternoon, I drove out to visit Columbia University where I saw "Mary Frances Smith", now head of the department of biology. Looking around, I also saw "Alvina Klick", one of the colleagues in the department of psychology. Back at the hotel I found one of my former classmates, "Don Taylor", working on book condensations for the "Reader's Digest".

I heard that "Betty Anthony", a famous crusader for women's rights in the South, was in the Bellevue General Hospital recovering from a recent illness. I decided to visit her. On the way we had to pull aside to let an emergency ambulance whiz by. Who was occupying the Drivers' seat but "Rich Heidbrink"!

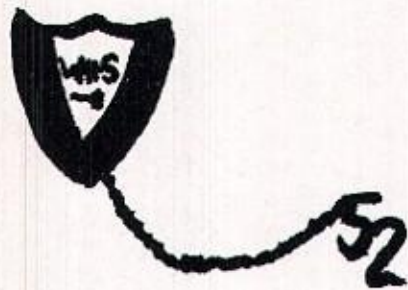

SENIOR PROPHECY

Entering the hospital, I recognized "Joan Lindauer" now serving as Superintendent of Nurses. She told me that she had recently attended a meeting where "Jo Ann Dittmore" was elected president of the American Association of Surgical Nurses. Near the hotel is the "Charles Gross" Funeral Home. He has a very enterprising business.

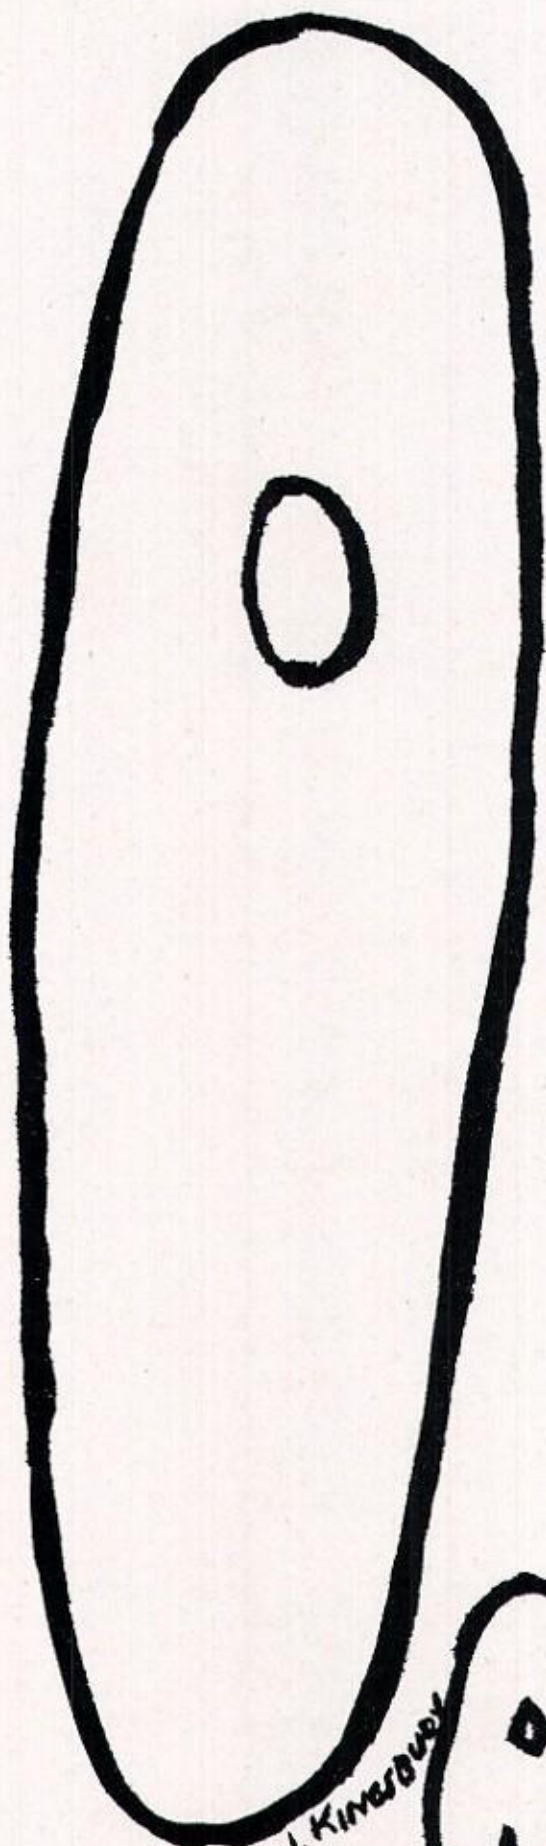

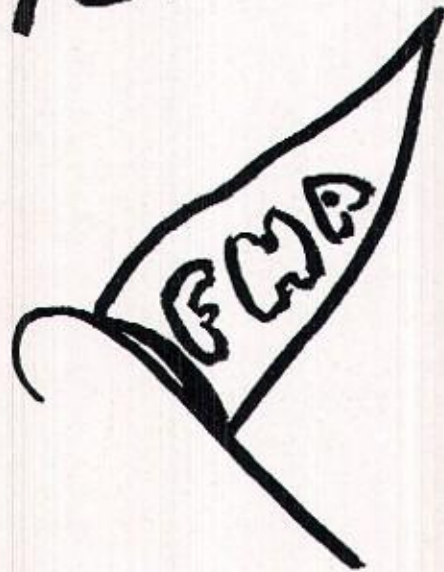

After a lovely dinner, I went to Madison Square Garden for the all-star sports revue. The pro-basketball star of the year was "Bill Pence". Other stars familiar to me were "Don Miller", who received the trophy as the greatest big league baseball player of the year; "Betty (Muscles) Burton", who is now one of the outstanding women wrestlers; "Shirley Crump and Marilyn Gardner", who are featured skating to the delightful tunes from "Shearon Thomassen's" accordion; and "Betty Ronsick", the Olympic track star. A wonderful evening

The following day I prepared to leave New York. At the La Guardia Field I saw working in the office as top secretaries to the executive of TWA, "Ruth Glosemeyer and Mary Ellen Sprague". Hastening to catch the plane, I saw the attractive stewardess was an old friend, "Rosie Schuette". She warned me that the pilot of this plane was "Billy Joe Froning". I stopped for a few minutes in Washington D. C. and saw that "Donovan Sprick" had been victorious in his campaign to become Secretary of Agriculture. I found "Amy Lindauer, Janis Baumann, Betty Mills, and Marcia Potts" who have top positions as secretaries at the FBI office. On the plane to St. Louis was another acquaintance "Darlene Cowan", a very efficient stewardess on the Capital Airlines. She told me that "Harlen Meyer", owner of the Airline, was on this same flight with his private secretary, "Wilma Obermann". Arriving in St. Louis, I found that hotels were crowded because of the American Farmer's Convention. Some of the outstanding farmers there were "Walter Schlemper", a feed company owner; "Robert Heisel", a prominent cattle rancher from Texas; "Francis Swoboda", head of the Missouri Farmers Association, and "Earl Mueller", who raises race horses in Kentucky. Also in St. Louis was "Robert Lause", who now teaches agriculture at the University of Missouri.

Thus ended a wonderful trip which brought back many pleasant memories of the good times we had at WHS 'way back in 1952.

SPORTS SUMMARY

The Washington High Bluejays added eight trophies during the 1951-52 season in softball, basketball and track. The softball team won second place in the Pacific Invitational Tournament. The basketball team compiled a 28 won and 4 lost record for the season. A trophy was won by Bill Pence for good sportsmanship at the Elsberry Tournament, and the All-Star Captain's trophy was won by Eddie Ronsick at the Bowling Green Tournament. The Bluejays won 1st place at the Elsberry Tournament, defeating Maplewood in the finals 51-37. The following week the 'Jays won the Bowling Green Tournament, defeating St. Peters of St. Charles in the finals by a score of 46-41. The third 1st place trophy was won in the Class "A" Regional Tournament by defeating Crystal City in the finals 50-31. By winning the Regional, the Bluejays were one of the sixteen teams in Class "A" to play in the State Tournament at Brewer Field House in Columbia. The local team met St. Louis University High in the first game and the 'Jays were defeated 54 to 40. St. Louis U. High went on to win the State Tournament.

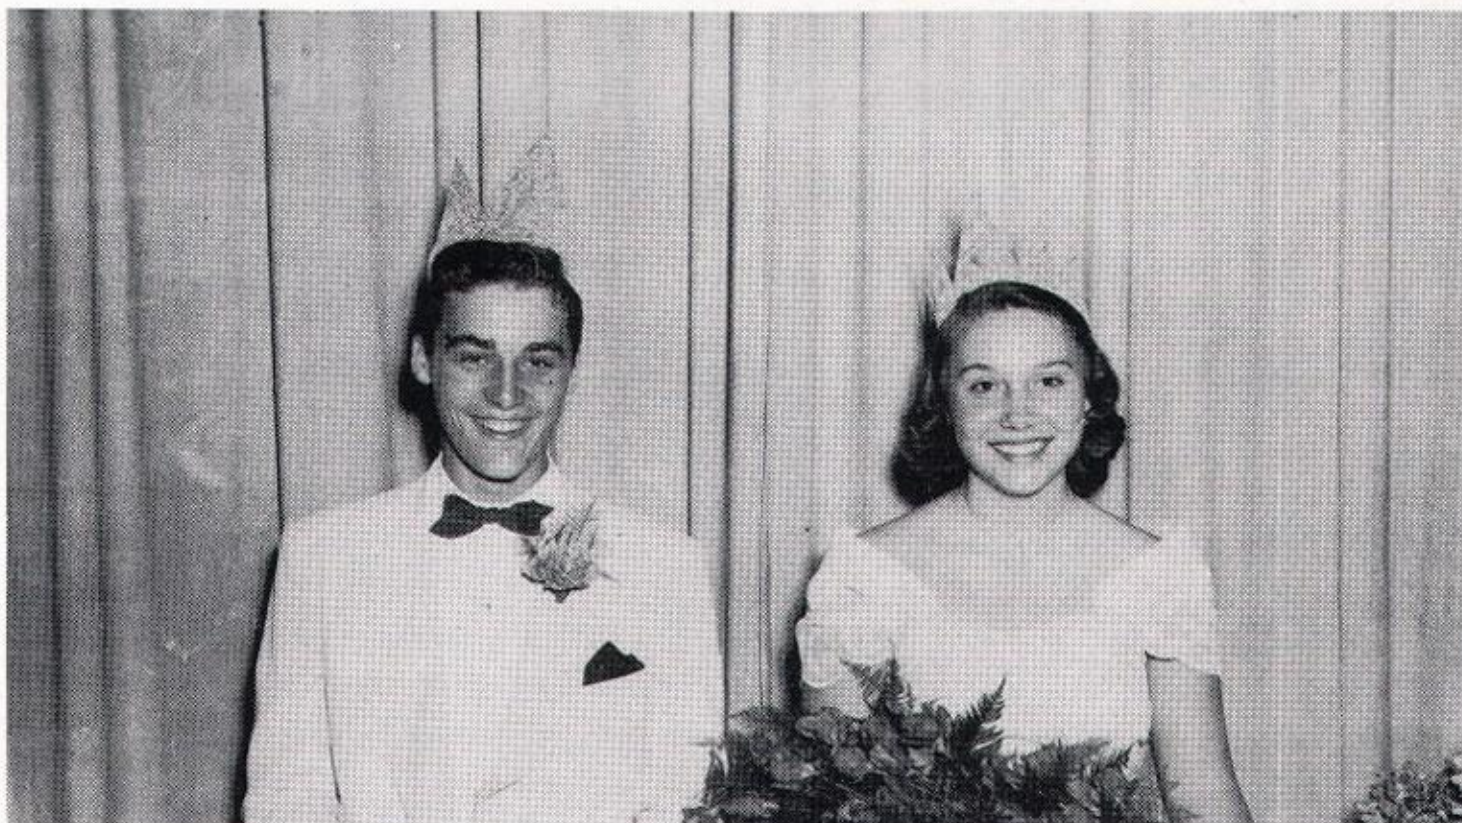

The Track team enjoyed a successful season winning four out of five meets and placing in the big Central College Indoor Meet, State Indoor Meet and State Outdoor Meet. The Bluejays won the Franklin County Meet at Union with Pacific furnishing the closest competition running 24 points behind the Bluejays. By winning the County Meet the 'Jays won the 1st place trophy. The 'Jays added another trophy by taking third place in the Rolla Invitational Meet. Maplewood won first, Fulton second, Washington third, Lebanon fourth, and Rolla fifth.
